A Word in Season.

Just at the present time the impresse Drug and Book Establishment of J. C. Saur is unusually interesting, inasmuch as the Holiday Stock of Goods are being arranged, which occupies the attention of the force of the establishment day and night. We believe we are safe in saying that never before in the history of this house has such a display of ornamental and useful articles been opened up to the eyes and tastes of our citizens. The 'Little Dutchman" has completely outdone himself in his efforts to please the tastes, and at the same time accommodate the pocket-books of the citizens of Napoleon and surrounding country.

As the lolidays are near at hand, and knowing that it is more blessed to give than receive, Saur has made it a point this season to collect a stock of articles from which none can fail of finding something to please; no d'iference for whom intended, let it be a father, mother, brother, sister, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, cousin, husband, wife, sweetheart, or of whatever kin

It would be the next thing to an impossibility to enumerate all the arricles suitable for the h lidays to be found at Saur's, but to give the reader an idea of the extent and nature of the stock, we mention the one item of Gift Books, which comprises thousands of volumns. consisting of all the latest publications at prices never before heard of in this country. Think of it, a dollar book for 25 cents, no cheap binding, but good and substantial cloth binding and printed on good paper. Here is an opportunity of securing an acceptable present for anybody for the small outlay of 25c. Go and inspect these bargains early.

DUDLEY'S SCHEME.

How the Indiana Republicans Pro-pose to Cheat the Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 .- Lycurgus Dalton, of Indiana, Postmaster of the House and the authorized spokesman for ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, explains from a Democratic standpoint the situation in his State relative to the Legislature and the successorship to Senator Harrison as follows:

"At our township elections last spring our people in Vigo county elected a Justice of the Peace. He supposed that his term began at once, but when he filed his bond he was confronted with the commission of the man he with the commission of the man he was elected to succeed, and that commission runs until next year, 1887. Now our Constitution provides that no man who holds a judicial position shall be elected to any other than a judicial office during the term for which he was elected. The man elected by the Democrats as Justice of the Peace never entered upon the discharge of his duties. entered upon the discharge of his duties as such, never assuming the functions of the office. He could not do so until and operator of McClure for the T. St. L. & the expiration of the time for which his predecessor was commissioned. At the recent election this man who was elected a Justice of the Peace, but whose term has never begun, was elected to the Legislature. Our best lawyers contend that the case is too plain for controversy; that as the term of the Legislature-elect as Justice of the Peace had not begun, he is lawfully eligible to the position to which he was last chosen."

"Who will determine his eligibility?" "The Lower House of the Legisla-ture, to which he was elected," was the reply.

"And the Republicans have a majority in that House," suggested the reporter.

"Yes," replied Mr. Dalton, "they have a majority, and it has deen suggested that they may unseat a sufficient number of Democrats to give them a majority on joint ballot. Of course they might do that. They have the power. But if they undertake to control the Legislature and procure a United States Senator by any such means there will be trouble. The people will not submit to any such uniaw. eporter. ple will not submit to any such unlawful exercise of party power in this case. For my part I have no uneasiness on this subject. The Legislature is Demo-cratic and they will elect their Senator without any trouble."

"Who will get the Senatorship?"
"I regard Mr. McDonald's election as sure," was the answer.

Indiana Politics Becoming Obiorized. Indianapolis, Nov. 14.—The Legislature elected on Tuesday, November 2d, as shown on the face of returns, will 2d, as shown on the face of returns, will stand on joint ballot, 76 Democrats and 74 Republicans, giving the Democrats two majority. The Republicans will have control of the House and the Democrats of the Senate. The coming contest hinges on the election of a United States Senator to succeed Gen. Harrison, and both parties will make a stubborn fight for the prize. The Democratic properties of the stubborn fight for the prize. stubborn fight for the prize. The Dem-ocrats have filed notices of contest against four Republican members elected to the House, and against six of the nine Senators elected by the Republi-cans. The charges on which the con-tests are based include ineligibility on constitutional grounds, bribery, corruption, etc.

The Republicans propose to contest the seats of three Democratic members of the House and one Senator. The Legislature will assemble Thurs day, January 6, and an exciting time is considered certain. Democratic Rule in the South.

(Memphis Appeal.)
It is a singular fact worthy of note that the Southern States which gives the largest Democratic majorities are the most prosperous States, not only in the South but in the Union. The Republican newspapers and their hired correspondents in the South have created the impression on the Northern mind that the whites are so busy in bulldozing the negro that they have no time to bestow on their material inter-ests, and that Democratic rule in the South means desolation and ruin. But the truth is the strongest Southern Democratic States are the most prosperous States. The State of Georgia is overwhelmingly Democratic. General Gordon has recently been elected Governor without opposition. She sends an unbroken Democratic delegation to Congress, and yet Georgia is the Empire State of the South, more prosperous than the intensely Republican States—East, North or West. The Democratic majority in Alabama at the last election reached nearly 100,000. The Democratic majorities are so overwhelming that the Republicans have disbanded their organization. Every congressional district elects a Democrat congressional district elects a Democrat to Congress. The smallest congression-al majority is 7,000; yet Alabama is known for her industrial thrift. Emi-gration is flocking to the State, and capital is pouring into almost every county. North Carolina at the last State elections, two years ago, largely increased her Democratic majority, and the State is on a boom. This increase the State is on a boom. This increased Democratic majority did not drive away capital. The whole State is prosperous beyond precedent. Money is pouring into the State for investment. So it is in Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and all the Southern States. When the Southern States were ruled by the Republican party, capital and immi-gration shunned them as they would a colony of outlaws. In the same proportion that the solid South became more solid, is the increase in its wealth and population. Score One for New Jersey

[Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligence.]
The position in which Mr. Powderly has put the Knights of Labor, in advocating the election of George, is that of a political party; and it is as this that it must hereafter be considered.

It is a very important change of front indeed. When the Knights of Labor set themselves up as a political organization, proposing to enter into the field with their own candidates for office, they occupy a very different position indeed from which they assume as an organization with a simple and sinan organization with a simple and sin-gle eye to the protection of the wages of their labor. That Mr. Powderly con-siders that he made a good movement for his organization in making George its candidate, we very much doubt, in view of his last declaration of policy.
